A massive open online course (MOOC) is a model for delivering learning content online to any person who wants to take a course, with no limit on attendance.

The National Programme on Technology Enhanced Learning (NPTEL) is a project initiated and handled by seven Indian Institutes of Technology (IIT-Bombay, Delhi, Kanpur, Kharagpur, Madras, Roorkee, and Guwahati) and Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore. It is a project funded by MHRD, Government of India, to develop and promote multimedia and web technology based learning open for all. Currently, more than 1200 courses are available on the web portal <http://nptel.ac.in> for viewing and downloading.

NPTEL has also initiated open online courses with certification where courses in different domains are regularly launched. Interested students can enroll in the courses at <http://onlinecourses.nptel.ac.in>. At the end of the course a certification exam (optional) is held on specific dates at specific centers. A certificate from IIT is awarded to those who register and appear for the examination. These exams have nominal fees with a facility of scholarship and partial fee waiver for SC/ST candidates.

The Institute has a complete series of video lectures available from NPTEL.
